BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

An advertisement in the Book Section of The New York Times asks: "How do you choose a book for a child?"

The conventional answer: is by age and a young reader's interests.

But this answer is most inadequate. There should be guidance to open up new vistas, new horizons, new interests, to inspire the imagination in a new way, and instill a growing inspiration for knowledge.

Appomattox Auto Parts Offers Teletype Service

Scotty Moore, proprietor of the Appomattox Auto Parts, on "Transco Road, just out of Appomattox, is as proud of his new teletype machine, and the service for which it stands as a small boy with a speckled pup. The new machine connects Appomattox Auto Parts with other companies and yards that also specialize in used parts for automobiles and trucks.

The arrangement multiplies the chances that Mr. Moore can find a needed used part, in good condition for your car or truck. There is a teletype tie-in with many dealers up and down the Eastern area.

If a used part is needed which Mr. Moore may not have, he can use the teletype to locate a part from some other, and then he can quote a price. If no sale is made, there is no charge.

This adds up to mean that most any used car or truck part you may need, may be located quickly.

Mr. Moore invites car and truck owners in this area to avail themselves of this new service.

The real hope of the world lies in men of good will, scattered throughout the world and not confined to any one area.

We can meet any change in our life and affairs by holding steady with God. We can look to Him for inspiration and guidance and He will lead us in ways that bring success and soul-satisfaction.

FARMERS TO CHECK ON STORAGE AVAILABLE

Farmers were urged today to check on their available storage, to be sure they have enough to take care of their upcoming crops.

W. D. Hix III, Chairman, County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded growers that a recent modification in the farm storage facility loan program of the Commodity Credit Corporation makes it possible for them to borrow up to 95 percent of the outlay for farm storage facilities costing 40 cents per bushel or less to build. Previously, loans on these types of facilities were limited to 80 percent of the cost.

For facilities costing more per bushel, farmers may borrow up to 95 percent of 40 cents per bushel or 80 percent of the cost, whichever is greater, but not more than 50 cents per bushel of capacity.

The Chairman pointed out that a similar change has been made in the loan program for mobile dryers, which now enables farmers to borrow up to 95 percent of the delivered cost of equipment to keep grain stored in proper condition. Previously, these loans were limited to 75 percent of the cost of equipment.

For 1961, corn and grain sorghum producers will be eligible for price support on their feed grain crops only if they participate in the 1961 feed grain program.
